Help Stop Discrimination!

The current Senate debate concerning the Mansfield-Dirksen Bill questions certain vague and indefinite standards being used to deprive citizens of their right to vote because of race or color and prohibits arbitrary or unreasonable tests which do not test literacy alone.

In many Southern states, negroes are systematically deprived of their right to vote. In Mississippi, where negroes comprise 40% of the population, only 2% of the registered voters are negroes.

Misuse of state literacy laws have created this situation. The tests are subjective, and negroe college graduates have been known to fail them. These exams have been termed "the principle device for discriminating in voting."

The Mansfield-Dirksen Bill will protect the right to vote in Federal election free from arbitrary discrimination by literacy tests or other means. In situations where physical intimidation and economic reprisals are being used when a minority group attempts to register to vote, the undeniable cardinal freedom of citizens in a democratic system is being circumvented through unfair practices.

The Mansfield-Dirksen Bill will halt these practices.

We of the Ithacan urge student support in favor of the Mansfield-Dirksen Bill. As citizens, you are entitled to voice your opinion to your congressman. We urge you to do so.

The outstanding senior for 1962 will be chosen by Dean Clarke and will not necessarily be selected from the Ithacan's "Top Ten" list. This fact was erroneously stated in the April 26 edition.

R-TV Dept.

Commentary

by Doug Trenner

A close look at the program schedule of WICB-TV, the Ithaca College television station, and an even closer look at some of the programs on-the-air points up a glaring need for a revitalization of the entire programming structure at the college-run television station. Various reasons can be pinpointed that might be the cause of this needless mediocrity.

When the radio and television department was first built, the equipment was shiny and in tip-top shape. A casual look at the shape the equipment is in now would make one wonder whether it had been used as a tool of instruction at Seneca Gym. Without going into needless technical jargon, it will be a lucky day when the equipment functions without a falter. To the viewer, this environment of dilapidation is a complete secret so that he does not judge what he sees within this frame of reference. All the viewer knows is that he is watching a program that has been bungled quite badly. The department is hampered in this aspect by a meager budget handed to them every semester which just about covers minor repairs and petty cash. If you are to do a good job, your tools must be in first rate condition. The tools of the trade at the radio-tv department are not in first rate condition and never will be under the current budget and outlook.

The petrification of creative ideas at the radio and television department is evidenced by what goes on the air. The show Controversy was very controversial at its inception, and the idea had merit, but after too many semesters on-the-air, the show is no longer controversial; the panel members are picked well so that there is a spark of life in the program, but these men cannot be brought back every week. Tempo, featuring musicians from the city of Ithaca, has also had its day and should be taken off the schedule. The news shows and the one children's show are worth their weight in gold because they freshen up the week-after-week diet of dull programming. The situation calls for an objective view of creativity at the radio and television department.

There is a lack of incentive concerning student produced and directed live dramas on the cable. One was tried and failed. The failure was not entirely the fault of the student. The department helped the failure along by exhibiting very little enthusiasm for the project. A student with this type of project in mind will turn back after seeing the cooperation given in the past.

Programs that involve talent from the city of Ithaca seem to fare worse than other programs. There is no preparation involved with the local talent. They are told to be at the studio at a certain time, and not knowing the importance of promptness in this business, they arrive late leaving little time for rehearsal. They have no idea what to wear, how to act in front of a camera, what the wierd motions of the floor director signify, or what they are getting themselves into. Consequently, and through no fault of their own, they act as if they were Alices in Wonderland, which is very evident to the viewing audience.

The Ithaca College Television Station is one of the most important methods of judgment that residents of the city use to form an impression of the college. The college needs the support of the city in its expansion plan. Either advertise that the college television station does not represent the college as a whole (an impossible task), or do something about the programming at WICB-TV.

Controversy

by Frank Schipani

During the past five years there have sprung up numerous pro-American, anti-communist organizations. The avant-garde of these conservative organizations is probably the John Birch Society. The controversy concerning these organizations has hinged primarily on its criticism of many American political leaders. Its leader, Robert Welch, accuses presidents Eisenhower, Truman, and F. D. Roosevelt of being "tools in the hands of the communists" (slightly paraphrased). President Kennedy is conceived of as being amoral and crafty enough to know, during his election campaign, that the only way to attain the presidency was to make an appeal to the communists or communist sympathizers in this country. Recently, the society held a national collegiate essay competition on the reasons Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren should be impeached.

Criticism just

I do not think that the president, any member of congress or any chief justice is above reproach for their methods or actions, but to carry it to an unfounded extreme only succeeds in undermining the structure of the American Government. If any political liberalism is to be taken as communism, as it is in this ultra-conservative group, it follows that the entire Democratic party should be eliminated and a one party conservative system adopted. This fanatical view, which is a logical consequence of its policies, is equally as "Un-American" as the subversive activities to which they are supposedly antagonistic.

Hidden motives

In a statement by one of the society's leading members, the abolition of a federal income tax is promulgated as one of the chief objectives. Though not apparently incongruous with other organizational purposes, it at least appears unrelated until we examine the constituent composition of the "Council", the most powerful subgroup within the organization. Its membership consists primarily of some of the most formidably wealthy capitalists in this country.

View changed

Founded in 1958 by Robert Welch, the organization has grown rapidly with its own membership prospectus at 100,000 in 1962. The society has not only grown in membership but also in political significance. Attorney General Robert Kennedy stated in an interview about a year ago that the organization was ridiculous. In a more recent interview he hedged slightly, suggesting "the John Birch Society and all the rest are largely well-meaning people, but I think if they would address themselves to a positive approach we would all be much better off."

The relative ease with which subversive infiltration of the United States Government can take place must unquestionably be keenly scrutinized but to demoralize a large number of citizens by expressing a complete lack of faith in the people who fill the most important positions in the country will not, cannot, result in a government purged of individual imperfection.

Review

"On The Town"

"On the Town" tells the story of three sailors on twenty-four hour leave in New York. One of them, Gabey, portrayed by Jim Garoufes, falls in love with a photograph of "Miss Turnstyles for the Month of May" played by Marget Larsen. Gabey's two buddies, Jay Tarses and Jim Gregory, agree to help him find her. During the search, Gabey's friends find girls of their own—Hildy, an overpowering female taxi driver, played by Kathy Keating, and an over-sexed anthropologist, played by Jeanne Blumenfeld. The two newly formed couples join forces to help Gabey find "Miss Turnstyles" and just before the sailor's leaves are over she is found at Coney Island. All pledge their love when the whistle blows. The three couples give parting embraces as three new sailors disembark ready for an exciting time in the big city.

The production which opened Monday night at the I.C. Little Theatre is fast paced, light and enjoyable. Mr. Bardwell moves his cast about the stage with precision and ingenuity. The segway into the second scene depicting the hustle and bustle of New York was especially effective.

Jim Garoufes plays Gabey simply and effectively. "Lucky to be Me" demonstrated Jim's powerful voice and is one of the high points of the show. The sought after beauty contest winner is well danced by Marget Larsen. She looks cute and dances well, but her characterization lacks color. Jim Gregory and Kathy Keating joined forces in the show stopper "Come Up to My Place." Mr. Gregory plays his role with a sharp comic sense. It is too bad, however, that he has so little to sing. Kathy Keating is a delight as Hildy. She belts out a song with fervor and charm. Jay Tarses portrays the third sailor, Ozzie. His sense of comic timing is clear, although at times an excess of gesture clouds some of the humor. His performance in "I get Carried Away" had the audience wild with laughter. His partner in the story is Claire the anthropologist, portrayed beautifully by Jeanne Blumenfeld. Her sense of characterization, comic timing and her strong voice combine to make the best performance in the show. Other performances bear mentioning. Harold Mason, as Claire's much dumped on fiance, is thoroughly enjoyable, as is Nancy Figard as Hildy's similarly treated roommate, Lucy Schmeeler. Barbara Nelson's interpretation of the alcoholic singing teacher was humorous, but it would have been more so, had she not been quite so broad.

The sets are largely functional with the exception of the "Map of New York" drop which was a very effective scenery piece. Mr. Cornea's choreography was fast paced but seemed to have no relation to the music. The score would reach a crescendo but the dancers movements would remain calm, and vice-versa.

However, on the Ithaca College stage the pace and the level of the performance is high. Some high spots to look for aside from the ones mentioned are "New York, N.Y.," "You Got Me," and the very warm "Some Other Time."

Interview

"Parents" Urge Strong Women Student Rulings

by Janet Kaplow

During a recent interview, Helen H. Hood, Dean of Women, discussed her views on a topic that is of interest to all students: the restrictions placed on the female population and the purpose and results of these restrictions.

When asked why certain restrictions were placed on women students specifically, Dean Hood replied: "Parents! They want to relinquish their responsibilities as parents gradually, and would not send their daughters to college where restrictions were not present."

Dean Hood realizes that "some students who come to college are as mature as they are going to be at adult life. Others graduate without having assumed mature responsibility." It is not possible, she continued to say, to restrict some individuals and not others; therefore, it is necessary to follow a "broad general principle" of rules and regulations in an institution of this size.

The judgment of those students elected to Women Student Government as shown by the rules they have incorporated in the Blue and Gold illustrates the high level of maturity of some students, says Dean Hood.

The Dean of Women has found that the experience of raising her own daughter has helped her to understand the female problems that she is presented with daily. She also feels that serving as a "sounding board" for students who come to her with difficulties enables them to evaluate their own problems "Just by talking they make their own decisions."

Dean Hood concludes by saying that 99% of the women students handle their problems with great intelligence and maturity."

Brooke, Bedell Smash IC Records As Trackmen Score Easy Victory

by Lou Ricks

Buddy Brooke, junior, and Captain Ted Bedell, senior broke four records last Saturday as the varsity trackmen coasted easily to their second win of the year, 106½-24½, over Harpur College.

Brooke's new marks, coming in the 100 and 220 yard dashes "with aiding winds," were :09.8 seconds for the 100 and :21.6 seconds for the 220. The previous 100 yard record of :09.9 seconds, was set back in 1951 by Bill Roos, a music major. Bill Neely, who graduated last June, had the old 220 yard mark of :22.5 seconds that he established at Cortland two years ago.

Bedell broke his own records in the low and high hurdles, also "with aiding winds." His :16.0 time in the high hurdles was four-tenths of a second better than he did last year. He ran the low hurdles in .24.7 seconds, which was seven-tenths better than his time of :25.4 seconds set at Rochester last week.

Other first place winners for Ithaca were Dave Downer in the 440 (:53.4), Joe Biddy in the 880 (2:04), Jim Mackey in the two mile run (11:13), Curt Raymond in the javelin throw (169'8"), Bob Bubb in the shot put (39'2"), Roger Hutchinson in the discus throw (122'2"), Roger Kirkhart in the pole vault (10'), Gary Gregorka in the high jump (5'10"), Paul Schwartz in the broad jump (20'4"), and Bedell, Brooke, Biddy and Downer in the mile relay (3:41).

Dave Falla was the only first place winner for Harpur. He outran Mackey in the mile run (4:47).

Second place men for IC were Jack Yengo (100 yard dash), Mackey (mile), Downer (220 yard dash), Shwartz (low hurdles), Harry Bjerke (javelin), LeRoy Green (shot put), Warren Albrecht (discus), and Bob Keens (pole vault).

Placing third were Kieth Jamison (100 and 220 yard dashes), Ed Holmes (one and two mile), Lou Kimmell (440 yard dash), Dale Weston (high hurdles), Pete Bardon (880), Tom Frank (javelin), Bedell (shot put), Bjerke (discus), Shwartz (pole vault-tie), and Kingdon (high jump).

Brooke is about to cross tape first again as Jack Yengo closes the gap (Right) and Keith Jamison places third. This was IC's second sweep of the day. The 100 was run in 9.8.

Bombers Win 7th Straight; Holy Cross Rally Fails 7-6

by Bruce Theobald

In a battle of the unbeaten, Ithaca College came out on top of a 7-6 thriller at Holy Cross last Saturday to string up its seventh straight win of the season in as many starts. It was the Crusader's first loss in five outings.

A crowd of approximately 1,000 saw the Bombers come from a 4-1 deficit in the second inning to take a commanding 5-4 lead on Don Fazio's bases loaded single in the fifth frame.

Ithaca hit paydirt first. Left-fielder Ed Farquhar started the second stanza with a walk. He reached second on a fielder's choice and scored on catcher Dick Rockwell's single.

The hosts bombed right back in the same frame, blasting starter Frank Vandeweghe, a left-hander, off the mound with a homer, a single and a triple.

Freize Relieves

Reliever Roger Freize yielded another home run in the same inning, but calmed down to scatter seven singles throughout the remainder of the contest and win his second game of the season.

A right-handed hurler, the junior from Binghamton struck out six while allowing four free passes.

Fazio, playing third, also singled in the third inning, scoring co-captain Bob Valesente, center fielder, who had reached second base on two errors.

Two walks and Freize's single preceded Fazio's fourth inning smash that knotted the count at four apiece.

Farguham tripled to start the fifth frame and put IC ahead 5-4 via Skip Lyne's single.

The Crusaders bounced back to tie the score 5-5 in the bottom half of the same inning on two walks and a single.

"Vale" Steals Home

The Bombers moved back out in front, this time to stay, the following inning, when Valesente stole home after first baseman Jim Baker's single put him on third.

The winning margin came in the seventh inning. Lyne walked, was sacrificed to second by Billy Odell, and crossed home plate on Rockwell's second base hit of the day.

Holy Cross also added another tally in the seventh on three consecutive base hits.

The losers threatened in the final inning after one out. Pinch-hitter Larry Peidamen singled, was given second on a walk and reached third on a fielder's choice; but the threat was put down as Freize struck out another pinch-hitter, Bill Stacey, to end the game.

The Ithaca squad was playing against a local lad, Tom Smith, the Crusader's catcher and captain. A senior at Holy Cross, Smith also played halfback on the football team and guard on the basketball squad as well as catch for the baseball unit at Ithaca High.

Varsity Golfers Score Wins Over Utica, Hobart

The golf team racked up victories number two and three last week in defeating Utica College 7-2 on Monday and Hobart College 6-3 on Thursday.

Gordie Light and Tom Schreiber, the number three and four men, were victorious in both matches while Stan Ziebielski and John Hewes each won one and tied one. Chuck O'Hara was also a winner at Utica.

Ithaca's number one man, Bill Legans, had quite a hectic week. At Geneva he scored two eagles and was medalist but had to settle for an even match. He lost one down at Utica.

Tennis Team Wins Twice in Upstate College Contests

Fred Schroeder, Al Krotz and Ulrich Schaaflhausen led the varsity tennis team to 7-2 and 6-3 victories over Utica College and Hobart College last week as they combined for ten of the total 13 points.

All three were winners in their singles and doubles events of both matches.

George Wands and Charles Parkes copped their singles matches at Utica, and Jerry Dumphy defeated his opponent at Hobart.

Majors Club Meeting

The installation of new officers will highlight the Majors Club meeting tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the AGL.

Frosh Ball Club To Seek 1st Win Today Vs. Cornell

Today the IC freshmen baseball team will be looking for its first win of the season when the Cornell yearlings invade South Hill at 3:00 p.m.

Coach "Carp" Wood's unit lost to the Army Plebes in its season opener, and last Saturday had to settle for an 8-8 tie with the Syracuse University frosh. The game was called at the end of ten innings on account of darkness.

The golf team, coached by Herb Broadwell, will entertain the LeMoyne Dolphins tomorrow at 1:00 p.m. They will meet Brockport and Cortland in a tri-meet away Monday and Harpur there on Wednesday.

Coach Vince Messina's tennis squad will play Cortland at Stewart Park Tuesday (1:00 p.m.) and travel to Harpur College the following day.
